Birdwatching 323 Has Numerous Fine 'Points'

by JOY YATES

Maybe you didn't realize it, but there is a group of students here on this campus who are just about to become first class "birdwatchers."

The only difference between them and other bird watchers is that they get college credits for doing their birdwatching. Actually they are just members of the ornithology class which is offered by the Biological Science Department.

There are four students taking this "Birdology" course. They do all sorts of exciting things like rising and shining at 6 a.m. one morning each week to go out and observe the early morning birds. They also meet one afternoon each week to observe the afternoon birds. Now that makes sense and naturally they have two lectures per week to study about the birds that they go out and observe.

Other than becoming an authority on birds, it is generally understood that these students are becoming authorities on the majority of the "little roads" around Weakley County!

This is the second year that this course has been offered. It is a four-hour course. This year the students are planning an all day excursion to Reelfoot lake to observe the different kinds of birds over there.

Miss Evans was the original instructor for this class, but since her illness Mr. Trentham has taken over the lab and Dr. Moore the lectures.

Elected Head Home Ec Club

ALICE CLARE FREEMAN

Miss Alice Clare Freeman has been elected secretary of the Home Economics Club for the 1960-61 school year at The University of Tennessee, Martin Branch. A sophomore, Miss Freeman has served as All Students Club representative, intramural captain and received the Philharmonic Music Award. UTMB Aqs Sent Judging Team To LSU Last Week

Three UTMB students competed in the Livestock Judging and Live Animal-Carcass contest held at Louisiana State University on April 22-23.

Competing individually in the two day contest from U-T Martin were Lee Graham, Dewey Bunch, and Charles Grooms. Judging on a non-competitive basis were freshmen Bobby Sasser and John Townsend. Top man of the UTMB group was Lee Graham who competed with more than 100 others.

The highest individual honor went to a Kentucky student with the Mississippi State team winning the judging contest. Kentucky, Mississippi State B, VPI, and Florida teams were among the five finalists.

Honorable mention was given to Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, VPI, and Florida.

Dr. Paul Starks, team coach, said that he was pleased with the individual showings in spite of the fact that they did not bring home a blue ribbon.

Explorer Scouts Visit Campus

The UTMB campus was the scene Saturday of the second Explorer Exposition of the West Tennessee Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Approximately 40 scouts, 15 to 18 years of age, attended the all day meeting with Dunn Miller, executive scout director for this area, Baxter Fisher, and Henry Allison, acting as coordinators for the Exposition.

Phi Sigma Kappa Receives Approval

The final approval for the nationalization of the local Phi Sigma Kappa Colony came by telegram from Herbert L. Brown, national secretary, this past week.

The petition for a national chapter had been signed by the administration and had met the approval of the national headquarters.

As plans stand now the initiation will be May 13 and 14. Mr. Brown has informed the colony that he will arrive from Drexel Hill, Penn., the national headquarters, on Thursday, May 12, and will remain on campus through Sunday.

At the time of the chapter's activation, there will be several fraternity alumni to come back and become Phi Sigma members. Following the initiation, there will be a banquet to celebrate the new chapter.

The local chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa will be named either Sigma Tetartion or Tau Tetartion. This depends on whether or not the chapter is initiated before a colony in Texas. At the initiation, the members will receive the jeweled fraternity pins. The guard that designates the local chapter will not be made until after the chapter is formed.

The local colony has already started receiving official material from the national headquarters. At the last meeting President Martin read the notification of National Convention. The local colony decided to have their president elect for next year to represent them in Boston the last of August next year. At the same meeting, the colony decided to have the fraternity election at the next meeting. President Martin will be in charge of the election using the floor nomination method.

The Phi Sig room in the Ivy House was open during Open House, and there were many men that signed up for rush during next Fall quarter.

Inauguration For Dr. A. D. Holt Set For May 14

Gov. Buford Ellington will officially induct Dr. Andrew D. Holt into office of president of the University of Tennessee at inauguration ceremonies on May 14.

Also taking part in the ceremony will be the Right Reverend Theodore N. Barth, bishop of the Diocese of Tennessee, Protestant Episcopal Church. Bishop Barth will offer the invocation and benediction at the ceremony in the U-T Army Field House Arena.

The induction ceremony will immediately precede Dr. Holt's inaugural address. The U-T president will be presented by Dr. Herman E. Spivey, U-T's academic vice president, and will be formally placed into office by the Governor, acting as chairman of the U-T Board of Trustees.

Prior to the induction ceremony, Dr. Grayson Kirk, president of Columbia University, will address the assemblage of U-T officials, delegates from other colleges and universities, and the general public.

On the evening preceding the inauguration, Dr. William G. Carr, executive secretary of the National Education Association, will speak at the inaugural banquet.

Color TV Thrills Forty-Eight Men

by NELL WILLIAMS

Much enthusiasm has been aroused in Reed Hall resulting from the purchase of a new 21" "color" T-V set.

In music, color is variety of expression. In literature, color is symbolic of ornate style. The color T-V in Reed denotes a touch in variety of expression that is characteristic only of these 48 distinctive men.

Of course, in order to own something like this, they must really work to meet certain requirements that go along with the purchase of a T-V set. The living room at Reed is always filled to capacity when a color program is on. "People from other dorms are welcome to come over to see these programs," says each Reed Hall occupant.

Only one complaint coming from a Television fan was, "There aren't enough color T-V programs." What! Next goal to get more color T-V programs. How about that you remaining 47 Reed Hall men.

Y. F. and H.'ers To Hold Retreat

The Young Farmers and Homemakers Club will hold their annual retreat this weekend. Approximately thirty members will leave Saturday at noon for Birdsong, district Y. F. & H. Camp. The camp is situated on Kentucky Lake near Camden and is now nearing completion.

The club has planned a weekend of living and playing in the woods. Coach and Mrs. J. C. Henson, Miss Nadine Gearin, and Miss Van Denburg will accompany the group this weekend. Melvin Humphreys and Charles Hill are in charge of leading the recreation for the weekend.

The Y. F. & H.'ers are one of the most active groups on campus. Anyone is eligible to become a member, according to Kenneth Norwood, president, as long as he is willing to work and have a good time.

Perry Smith Wins ASA Presidency In Close Contest

Perry Smith was elected president of the All Students Association for 1960-61 yesterday, defeating his opponent, Ray Pollard, by a close vote of 293 to 268.

The newly elected vice president of the ASA is Bobby Duck who won the election by a margin of 315 to 252 against Charlie Ereolin. Laraine Fields whose opponent was Kay Kerr was elected to the office of secretary also by a close vote—294 to 270.

The new constitution for the ASA which has been revised this year for the first time since 1951 was approved by 552 of the 571 students who voted. The Election Commission reported that the number of students to vote was the largest in the history of UTMB.

Smith, the new president, is a junior in liberal arts from Memphis. He is an active member of the Phi Sigma fraternity. He has been a member of the Liberal Arts Club and was sports editor for the annual his sophomore year.

A junior in agriculture from Scotts Hill, Bobby Duck served as president of the AG Club winter quarter of 1958-59 and is serving as treasurer this quarter. He has been on the honor roll every quarter of his college career. He was awarded the Alpha Zeta Cup at Barnwarmin' last year.

Laraine, Miss UTMB for 1959-60, is a sophomore in physical education from South Fulton. She was a cheerleader this year. Laraine is also secretary of the sophomore class and of the Baptist Student Union.

Each of the candidates for the offices of the ASA gave campaign speeches at the Music-Drama Building Tuesday so that their qualifications for office could be made known to the student body.

Each candidate was allotted eight minutes for his speech and in which each of them stressed more campus activity and student participation. They encouraged each student to vote whether he was for or against them.

By an overwhelming majority the student body voted yesterday to accept the new constitution for the All Students

Club which changes the name of the organization to All Students Association.

There have been other changes made by the new constitution. One is that all organized clubs will have only one representative to ASA, whereas, previously the president of each club was a member as well as the elected representative.

The ASA henceforth will have two sponsors. One of these will be appointed by the administration of UTMB. The other is to be elected by the ASA Council.

Another change is that each officer is required to check with the council office at least every other day to take care of business. The secretary-treasurer will set up regular hours when she will attend to routine ASA business. These hours will be posted on the bulletin board.

As a result of another change, two consecutive absences will automatically drop a member from the council and a new member shall be elected by the respective club involved unless the absences are absolutely unavoidable.

Business Club Announces 'Best'

The Business Club outing was discussed at the regular meeting of the club on Monday, April 18. Every member can invite visitors. The group will leave at 1 p.m. for Paris Landing and stay until 9 p.m.

The "best" members of the club were announced. They were Betty Stallings, Sandra Baker, Carolyn Sharp, Glenda Brown, Shirley Hamilton, Patsy Blount, James Faughn, Jerry Goodin, Don Gustavson, and Lamar Fielder.

Ground Is Broken For New Building

Construction of the Engineering Physical Sciences Building was officially begun Thursday, April 21, when Malcolm Rice, University of Tennessee architect, turned the first shovel full of dirt.

Present also for the groundbreaking were John H. Moore of John H. Moore and Sons Construction Company of Memphis, contractor; Dean Paul Meek; Bursar Gene Stanford; Earl Knepp of UTMB, resident engineer, and William Wilkins, representing Dan T. McGown of Memphis, architect.

The University of Tennessee recently awarded the Moore concern the $592,485 contract to construct the air-conditioned building and to replace a portion of the central heating system on the campus. The money is from funds appropriated by the 1959 state legislature.

The engineering and physical sciences departments will occupy the 42,000 square foot, three-story structure which was designed to harmonize with the modified Georgian style of architecture of other campus buildings.

Engineering classrooms and shops will occupy the first floor. The third floor will be occupied by physical sciences classrooms and labs and the second floor will be divided between the two departments.

The new building, to be located on the West end of the campus, will be ready for use in the fall of 1961.

EDUCATION CLUB CONSIDERS FLOAT

The Education Club met Monday night, April 18. The business consisted of a discussion about the Strawberry Festival Float, and discussion of the Education Club Social to be held April 29.

Ann Fernstrom's name was drawn for the door prize. Since she was not present the door prize will be $12 next meeting and names will be drawn until there is a winner.

Official ground breaking by U-T architect Malcolm Rice marks the beginning of the Engineering-Physical Sciences Building on West campus. Present for the proceedings were Dean Paul Meek, Constructor John H. Moore, Earl Knepp, resident engineer for UTMB, and William Wilkins, representing Memphis architect Dan T. McGown.

UP WITH MARKS! GET SET! GO!

And they're off! After making the first turn in the quarter, there's only a short distance to the end of the track, and some are falling behind as the trainers all begin to get anxious about the way the race is being run.

Perhaps this is a pretty trite way to begin an editorial on "How To Make The Most Out Of The Few Weeks Left In A Quarter That Has So Far Been Very Full Of Bright And Busy Days Which Don't Encourage The Heavier Things of Life Such As Studying," but it is one way of describing the UTMB scene after mid-terms.

Really nothing can be said here that probably hasn't been said already by some "inspired-to-do-better-the-last-half" UTMB'er. "Boy, I'm gonna burn that all night oil for the next two weeks to catch up and then burn it the last two weeks to get ready for finals!" (This is sometimes said by those who still are looking somewhat hypnotically dazed and successful from their mid-term bout of staying up to learn one more chemistry formula, have one more coke, read that three-week overdue chapter in American History, have one more cigarette, get those agonizing last 300 words of a critical analysis, or have just one more "Keep you awake till it kills you" tablet.)

This, then, is one way of winding up the quarter. And actually it probably does sound more "martyr-ish" to say "I didn't get a bit of sleep studying for that blankety blank test." (This is especially effective to use on concerned parents who don't know what we know—that the studying probably didn't get started until 12 or 1 o'clock because of the "very-important-to-our-social-growth" activities which lasted until then which caused us to sleep through class the next day which in turn kept us from getting part of our learning done in class instead of having to stay up all night to catch up.)

Give up? Well, that's another way too—except that it gets a little uncomfortable when the stinging realization that "I'm bound to be capable of more than that" hits.

The race is on; and it's really a part of the big race of pitting what we are and know now against what we can be and know.

Up with your marks! Get set! Go!

WRITE THAT LETTER HOME

About 40,000 letters mailed from this campus since January 1 attest to the fact that UTMB'ers must not fall in the category of those who don't write home—or somewhere—while away at school.

Even if a lot of it should happen to be the "Please send me . . ." "Dear John," or "The reason my grades . . ." letters, this still is quite an impressive stack of first class mail to be leaving here. This speaks well not only for the students who are "keeping in touch" with those who enjoy hearing from them but also for the folks who process the almost 400 letters which are sent out each day from the UTMB Post Office.

Almost poetically speaking about this laudable activity is the following passage from CEREMONIALS FOR COMMON DAYS.

"Every letter is something of a miracle. A soul dictates its thoughts. Queer markings appear on a piece of paper. The paper is sealed and stamped. Other signs are placed on the outer covering. The little packet is entrusted to utter strangers. It arrives. It is translated by another soul. It may transform a day—those hieroglyphics of a soul."

Also quoted from this little book is a national interpretation of the meaning of letters which is carved on the United States Post Office at Washington:

Messenger of Sympathy and Love
Servant of Parted Friends
Counselor of the Lonely
Bond of the Scattered Family
Enlarger of the Common Life
Carrier of News and Knowledge
Instrument of Trade and Industry
Promoter of Mutual Acquaintance
Of Peace and Good Will Among Men and Nations

WE POINT WITH PRIDE:

. . . To our new All Students' Association officers who will be officially installed at the Aloha Oe ceremonies May 13. Their responsibilities in this major campus organization will be even greater

Spring Fever Hots It Up

Old Man Sol Is Style Dictator

by JEAN BONNEY

Old Man Sol is hearing down on the campus these days and sunworshippers are many in number. Sunnier days have brought many a bright outfit to the co-ed's closet. To complement your newly acquired tan, you are always right with black and white, or a combination of the two.

Pastels help that healthy glow become more apparent. The big colors his year, say fashion critics, are sunny tones of yellow and the new "no-color" which is a greyed green.

Found in many co-ed's closets are the chenille outfits—either a straight skirt or softly pleated skirt with the becoming chenille jacket. Easter, has in fashion circles, been the green light for white in accessories and dress. For a light, gay approach to spring, try a basic shirtwaist with a variation cummerbunds and matching accessories in floral prints, plaids or striking solids. For footwear, the calypso heel, a new shape for spring, is comfortable, durable and most flattering to many a foot.

For study, play and such casual occasions, Bermuda shorts and a complementary blouse give that neat appearance that puts you at ease. Softness and femininity is best accomplished by the full skirt look. Whatever you wear, neatness is the by-word. Happy sunning.

Wives To Have Reelfoot Outing

It was decided at a recent meeting of the Student Wives Club that a barbecue and swimming outing at Reelfoot Lake will be the spring quarter social.

The social will be held May 15 and will include families of the members.

Club members also decided to sell toothbrushes as a fund raising project.

After the business meeting the group played games and was served refreshments by Jane Gregory and Nina Montgomery.

Others attending were Emily McClain, Freddie Tweedy, Virginia Brinkley, Sherry Gustavson, Sherry Cunningham, Nancy Moore, Nancy Fielder, Carol Smith, Helen Watson, Mary Alexander, Nettie Britt, and Sammie Bayless.

The next regular meeting will be May 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Lounge.

Trezevant, Obion Pupils Win Typing Contest

Students from Trezevant and Obion high schools won the two first place prizes in the West Tennessee Typewriting Contest held in conjunction with Open House at the University of Tennessee at Martin April 14.

One hundred and fifty-two students from 43 high schools competed in the contest. A total of 1,100 high school seniors were present for Open House.

First place among two-year typing students went to Roger Fisher of Obion and first place among one-year typing students was won by Joyce Kelly of Troy. The two winners were awarded a portable transistor radio and a wrist watch, respectively.

Prizes in this year's contest were awarded on the basis of typing speed and on the mail-ability of work produced during the contest.

Runner-up among the two-year students was Janet Perri of Peabody High School, Trenton. Runner-up among one-year typing students was Linda Grace Essary of Greenfield.

Other prize winners among two-year students were Charlotte Adkisson of Troy, Irma Jean Leach of Newbern, Patricia Stockdale of Big Sandy, Harriette Jenkins of Wayne County High School and Joyce Bailey of Dyer.

Other winners in the first year division were Wanda Louise Bills of Greenfield, Scotty Pinckley of Milan, Barbara Manuel of Michie, Louis Crawford of Bells and Paulette Stivers of Dyersburg.

Thirteen Attend THEA Convention

Thirteen UTMB home economics girls attended the Tennessee Home Economics Association convention which was held April 22-24 at Hotel Patten, Chattanooga.

They were Johnnie Alexander, Carol Austin, Virginia Beard, Nancy Caldwell, Mary Farrar, Susie Holloman, Nancy Hurst, Lynda Kaye Jones, Kay Ried, Mary Leathers, Margaret Nutt, Melba Whitesides and Nell Williams.

On Friday evening Miss Mary Rachel Armstrong, THEA president, gave the welcome. There was a fashion show, "New Directions," with Miss Anna Mary Creekmore presiding. Hostess for the College Club Mixer which was also held Friday night was Miss Melba Whitesides, retiring president THEA College Clubs.

Saturday, the College Club journeyed from Hotel Patten to the Pan-O-Ram Club on Lookout Mountain for a luncheon and installation of officers for 1960-61. Miss Margaret Gully, associate 4-H specialist, University of Tennessee, was the speaker. She emphasized in her speech that the professional should be smart, look smart, be different, dare to be different. This was the climax to the convention.

Saturday evening THEA had a banquet in the Tennessee Room of Hotel Patten with Miss Dorothy Ann McMasters, THEA vice-president, presiding. G. O. Wessener, manager of power of the Tennessee Valley Authority, spoke to the group on "Progress With Electricity".

Business and council meetings filled in the odd hours of the Convention which came to a close at a breakfast on Sunday morning.

Dr. N. D. Peacock Visits Campus

"UTMB is sharing in the greatest experiment of modern times—the education of a people to support a democracy," stated Dr. N. D. Peacock in an address to the UTMB faculty April 21.

Dr. Peacock is dean of resident instruction in the College of Agriculture at Knoxville.

"This experiment may not be possible, but if it is, its success will depend on the teachers' efforts," he added.

"Teachers are needed and need not apologize for their profession," he said. He added that one of the greatest rewards of a teacher is being needed.

"In trying to solve the problem of education teachers must realize the magnitude of it," Dr. Peacock stated. He went on to say that teachers must do this by seeking to cultivate an ability to understand, to evaluate and to make decisions.

He said that a means of motivation must be found which will stimulate the student to learn. This cannot be done by a mass education movement, nor can it be done individually.

Dr. Peacock told of one method used in the effort to revitalize teaching on the college level and to improve it. This method is a combination of panel discussion and lecture.

The purpose of Dean Peacock's visit to UTMB campus was to confer with Dean Paul Meek and members of the faculty and students on matters related to the ag program, including the courses offered at UTMB.

UTMB Women Beat Men In Making The Grade

Women students at UTMB make higher grades than men students, according to a study made by H. B. Smith, student personnel officer.

The grade point average for men students has been running around 2.1, while the point average for women has been around 2.5.

The average for the student body as a whole for the past five years has ranged from 2.1 to 2.3 with the five year average being 2.2. The I. Q. average score over the same period has ranged from 106.4 to 107.8. The highest average for the period was compiled when the I. Q. average was the highest, but the lowest average was when the I. Q. score was 107.2.

During the same five year period the point average of the men students has ranged from a low of 2.0 in 1957-58 to a high of 2.2 in 1958-59. The 2.2 average was compiled when the average I. Q. was 108.0, but the lowest average occurred when the average I. Q. was 107.2.

Women students at UTMB compiled their highest average during 1955-56 when the point average was 2.8. Their lowest grades were in 1957-58 when they fell to 2.4. The I. Q. of the women students varied from 107.8 in 1955-56 to 106.2 in 1956-57. It may be significant that the women students also compiled a higher high school average than the men students. Their high school average was around 90 while that of the men students was about 86.7.

In the Men's Residence Hall over the same period the grades ranged from 2.0 in 1957-58 to 2.3 in 1956-57. The average for the time was a little under 2.2. It is of interest that the 1957-58 group of men who had the lowest average at 2.0 had the highest high school average at 88.

In the Women's Dorm the averages varied from 2.2 in the fall of 1959-60 to 2.5 in 1955-56. The I. Q. scores ranged from a high of 107 in 1957-58 to a low of 104.9 in 1956-57.

The high school average of the women students was consistently a little above 90.

The point average for the local students has varied more than that of the whole student body. It ranged from 2.8 in 1956-57 to 2.1 in 1957-58. However, over the entire period the averages of the local students has been higher than that of the student body. It is possible that this is a result of living at home.

Over the five year period the average of computing students has been 2.3. It ranged from 2.2 in 1955-56 to 2.4 in 1956-57.

The highest grades of the entire period were compiled in 1958-59 and the lowest grades were made the year before.

Secretaries Have Potluck Supper

A potluck barbeque supper was served to the Secretary's Club last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. June Simmons in Sharon.

Barbecue and all the trimmings were served buffet style to the 16 members present.

After the meal a short business meeting was held at which time, among other things, it was decided that the first Wednesday in every month would be set aside as a group luncheon date to be held at some restaurant in town.

Mrs. Ilona Dyer gave a talk to the group on her experiences in Hungary after Russian occupation and her departure to America.

Others present for the meeting were Rebecca Murphy, Helen Lemond, Shirley Carter, Elizabeth Hamner, Robbie McMinn, Sarah Byars, Mary Sandefer, Doris Nell Mason, Kathleen Elder, Doris Kimmons, Reba Campbell, Dorothy Reams, Mary Ann Jeanes and Sammie Bayless.

Pikes Visited By District Officer

Tom Wade, Jr., district president of Pi Kappa Alpha, visited the "Pikes" at their regular meeting April 20.

Mr. Wade, who lives in Kenton is in charge of the six Pi Kappa Alpha chapters in Tennessee and any group which desires affiliation. The local chapter has been in close contact with Mr. Wade and other national officials for the past two months.

The purpose of his visit was to lay the ground work for an inspection of the local group and the campus of UTMB. The inspection is conducted by 15 members of the three closest chapters of Pi Kappa Alpha and five national officials. This inspection is one of the vital steps in achieving national recognition from Pi Kappa Alpha.

It is hoped that the local inspection will be the last week of this quarter, but if this is not possible, it will be held at the beginning of next fall quarter.

"The chapter is making very good progress and is looking forward to the achievement of the status of a national fraternity," according to Bill Murphy, president.

Math Event Will Be Held April 29

About 200 students from 25 high schools in northwestern Tennessee will compete in the fourth annual High School Mathematics Contest to be conducted at the University of Tennessee at Martin April 29.

High school principals or mathematics teachers who expect to enter students in the contest should send in their lists of contestants, according to J. O. Jones, chairman of the U-T Martin testing center.

The statewide contest is sponsored by the Tennessee Mathematics Teachers Association and consists of examinations in Algebra 1 and 2, plane geometry and a comprehensive for seniors.

Certificates of merit will be awarded to winners of the first three places. First, second and third place winners in each region of the state will be awarded certificates of distinction. Places 4 through 10 in the four tests will be presented certificates of achievement.

Plaques will be given to those schools and students who place among the top three in the statewide competition.

Seated at right is Dr. N. D. Peacock, dean of resident instruction, College of Agriculture, Knoxville, who visited the campus recently and talked over the agriculture program at UTMB with (l. to r., seated) J. E. McMahan, department head; Daron McNatt, president of the Ag Club; and (standing) Al Chapman, Larry Strange and Barry Simmons, ag students.

On the road to Washington via washing cars are Mert Scott, Harriette Lavenue, Ann Gresham, Coach Ross Elder (onlooker), Sally Roberts and Freddy Ashmore.

Alpha Gams Plan April 29 Social

Members of the Alpha Gamma Rho Club are making preparations for their spring social to be held Friday, April 29.

The Biltmore in Union City has been chosen as the location for the occasion. Tentative plans for the affair include a banquet to be followed by a dance.

An April date is traditionally chosen by AGR chapters all over the nation for their major social of the year. "The University officials were very cooperative in helping us to arrange this date," said Ed Perryman, club president. "We hope that after we achieve campus recognition and get things smoothed out that it will become an annual affair."

The club was recent host to Hugh Claybrook, an AGR active from Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College. Claybrook, a former UTMB student, is currently engaged in research work.

"Mr. Claybrook gave us a lot of interesting information," said Billy Townes. "In addition to providing information about AGR on a national level, he told us of some of the principles and procedures of the individual chapter. His suggestions should be a big asset in helping us get started."

Open House Is Well Attended

Approximately 1100 visitors massed on the UTMB campus April 14 for the annual Open House festivities. The high number of visitors apparently fulfilled the expectations of the open house committee.

The annual West Tennessee Typewriting Contest was held in the administration building with many schools participating.

The warm, summer-like weather, student assistants, faculty members, and the Open House Committee all helped to make this one of the best of the UTMB Open House projects, according to observers.

He missed it! And UTMB catcher Jimmy Kimmons caught it. The batter was a member of the Union University nine which defeated UTMB here last week.

Vols Shut-Out By Union Nine

In their first home game of the season U-T dropped a 9-0 game to Union. Hopkins, one of the area's top pitchers, who had downed Memphis State in his last outing, held U-T to 3 hits.

The game was close for 5½ innings. For the first 3, U-T's

Williams and Hopkins both pitched hitless ball. Union got its 1st run in the 4th on 2 hits and an error by Myrick. The score remained 1-0 with 2 out in the 6th. But between the 2nd and 3rd outs Union tallied 6 big runs. With two on and two out, five straight hits put the game out of reach.

The game was the 10th of the year for Union as against the second game of the year for U-T.

U-T's hits were made by Hollingsworth, Hunter, and Williams.

"I'm not wealthy and I don't have a yacht and a convertible like Jerome Green," apologized the suitor. "But I love you."

"And I love you, too," replied the girl. "But tell me more about Jerome."

Lambuth Beats UTMB at Tennis

Lambuth's tennis team defeated UTMB yesterday 5-4 to win their second victory over the Vols this season.

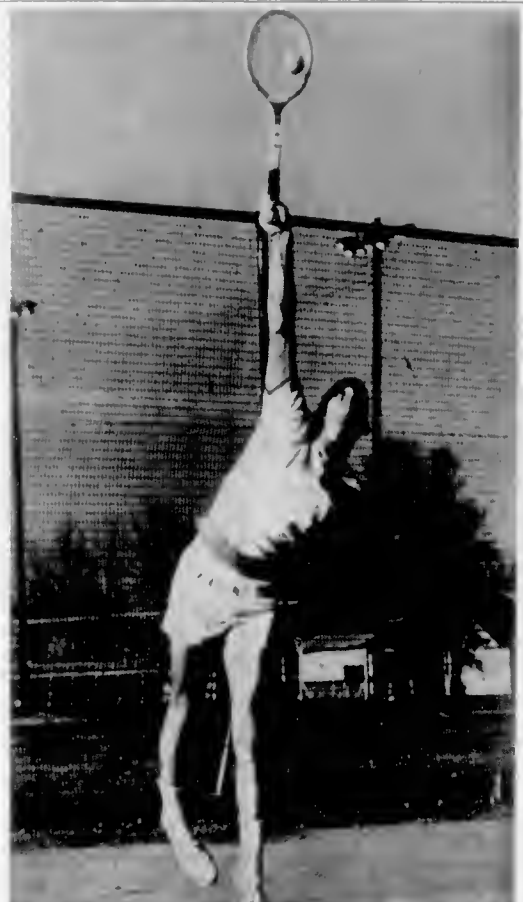

The Vols who had only one week before dropped an 8-1 decision to the Lambuth netmen did make it much closer, and the match was not decided until the end of the final doubles match. Five of the nine matches were decided by a third set, and a total of 222 games was played.

In the singles matches, Mike Martin (UTMB) was defeated by Bob Welch (L) 6-3, 8-6; Lyle Durham (UTMB) defeated Galen Hammonds (L) 6-1, 4-6, 6-4; George Sullivan (L) beat Lamar Ball (UTMB) 7-5, 6-2; Don Williams (L) downed Will Gresham (UTMB) 6-8, 6-3, 6-4; Wayne Forehand (UTMB) beat Hank Graper (L) 9-7, 6-1; and Sonny Gilbert (UTMB) defeated Danny Akin (L) 6-3, 6-2.

In the doubles matches Hammonds-Sullivan (L) beat Durham-Martin (UTMB) 2-6, 6-2, 6-4; Welch-Williams (L) defeated Gresham-Ball (UTMB) 6-3, 3-6, 6-2 and Howell-Fields (UTMB) defeated Graper-Akin (L) 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.

Last week's action also saw UTMB hand Union University a 5-4 defeat. The Vols will journey to Jackson Tuesday to play Union on their home courts.

Lamar Ball tries for an ace to further the cause of his team.

Vols Drop Close Games

The UTMB baseball team played two home games during the past week and came out on the short end of both games. The Vols lost a heart-breaker to David Lipscomb Saturday, 9-8, and then lost to Austin Peay Tuesday 10-5.

UT lost to Lipscomb although getting 15 hits to only 5 for the winners. UT led 3-1, then fell behind 8-3 as the Vol pitchers gave 12 walks. In the 7th UT rallied for 5 runs as 7 out of 8 batters singled. Lipscomb got the winning run in the 8th on a hit following two walks.

Sills pitched the last 4 innings for UT and was the losing pitcher although allowing only 1 hit. Cagle and Hunter led UT with 3 hits each.

Austin Peay, fresh off a win over Notre Dame, jumped off to a 6-0 lead over the Vols in the first two innings. Errors by the Vol pitcher, Petty, and first baseman, Hollingsworth, cost 3 of the runs. UT then rallied and trailed by 7-5 going into the 9th. Austin Peay then put the game on ice with three insurance runs.

(ACP) — Readership for at least one story in a recent Olympic College (Washington) RANGER ROUNDUP must have been exceptionally high. The story had to do with apparent theft of a human skull and a preserved human brain from the college science building. But it was preceded by the asserting headline: "Teacher Loses Brain."

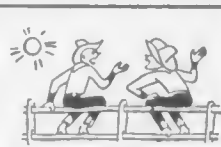

Intramural Play Moves Along

In the first game of the women's softball tournament Black Team, with the hard-hitting of Melba White-sides, defeated the girls on Yellow Team. Orange team defeated White. Red defeated Brown, and Green defeated Blue in this preliminary play.

Games that were won this week by Black team which played White, by Orange over Yellow, and by Green Team over Brown.

The last quarter final game will be played Monday, May 2 with Red taking on Blue.
